OVER 2000 WITNESS BISHOP'S CONSECRATION

Observations..

By UDELL

One of the greatest events that can ever happen in the life of a member of religious order occurred in Bay St. Louis Wednesday when Joseph Oliver Bowers, S. V. D., an alumnus of St. Augustine's Seminary of Bay St. Louis, was consecrated Bishop. . . . Thousands attended the ceremony at Our Lady of the Gulf church, and the event was shown over WDSU TV and broadcast. . . . Reporters from LIFE and COLLIER'S magazines, Moviephone and Paramount cameramen were on hand. . . . We wish to extend our sincerest congratulations to Bishop Bowers. . . .

Be sure and make plans today to give a pint of blood when the American Red Cross blood mobile unit comes to Bay St. Louis Tuesday, April 28. Donors are asked to contact Mrs. E. P. Kirkpatrick at 246. . . .

The King's Daughters and Sons Board members have announced that a dance, with Mrs. Nelius Rhodes as chairman will be given at the Top Hat in Waveland Saturday, May 9, for the benefit of the hospital. . . .

The Memorial Library fund drive will start Friday, May 1. . . . It will end June 15 the date on which the building being purchased will be ready for occupancy. Committee chairmen appointed were H. H. Shattuck, contacting major contributions; Mrs. Frank Kiefer, house to house canvassing; Robert Hamilton, men's organization; and Mrs. E. C. Samuel, women's organization. . . .

Heber Ladner, Secretary of State, gave the following opinion regarding primary election absentee ballots for military and civilian electors. . . . "This office has consistently held that the absentee ballot is not applicable to municipal elections. Therefore, none can be mailed. As to civilians, the absentee ballot therein desired is required to be printed at least 12 days in advance of the election, and any time within 12 days next preceding the election a person entitled to vote by absentee ballot thereunder may make application therefor. Upon receipt of the application or affidavit, the registrar is authorized to deliver to the person making the affidavit in person or by mail the absentee voter ballot. The above provision applies only to applications for absentee ballots by persons who will be absent by reason of occupation. Applications for absentee ballots by persons who will be unable to attend the polls by reason of physical incapacities cannot be made until within five days next preceding the election." . . .

We invite signed letters from the public, but when we print the letters, they are simply the opinions of the person signing same and not those of the editor of this newspaper. . . .

Lions To Meet

The Bay St. Louis Lions Club will hold its last meeting for April next Monday at Hotel Reed at noon.

Special guests of the Club will be Miss Irma Joan Lee, Lions candidate for Miss Hospitality, and local candidates for mayor, Joseph Benvenutti, Horace Kergosien and John Seafide.

At this meeting the Lions Club will also launch another civic project, when they present their first person to be named for the "Citizen of the Year" award which will be given by the Lions Club in December 1953. The purpose of this award is to honor some citizen of Hancock County who is leading an outstanding and useful life as an average person, but whose efforts and work might otherwise go unnoticed. The Lions expect to present at least five such persons before Christmas, and the winner will be selected then.

The Lions Club would like to know about some such person, from anyone in this locality, and if the committee feels that such a person is outstanding, he or she will be named for this award. Lions members should be contacted, and given such information. Any man or woman, of any color or creed, is eligible, and will be considered. The Lions Club hopes to tell the people of our community of the work and sacrifices that otherwise go unnoticed.

Lions Select Entry For Contest

C of C Plans For Gala 4th.

Hill billy music, hot dogs, hamburgers, cold drinks, a beauty contest for those from six to sixty, entertainment of all kinds for the young and the not so young, climaxed by a fire works display and the promise of an excellent speaker for the occasion, will be the program for the Fourth of July Celebration to be held on Bay St. Louis' sand beach this year. The affair, being sponsored by the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, was announced today by O. W. Delph, president. . . .

An organizational meeting to draft a tentative program was held at the Chamber of Commerce Office, City Hall, Thursday evening, April 16. Representatives of the following organizations were present: Mayor Warren Carver, City of Bay St. Louis; Cyril Glover and Sylvan Ladner, City Commissioners; L. S. Pahlman and J. Fillingame of the Bay-Pass District of Boy Scouts of America; John Seafide, Lions Club; Dr. J. A. Evans, Rotary Club; Mrs. George Horton and Mrs. Gerald Favre, Bay High Parent-Teachers Association; Mrs. Claiborne Ladner and Mrs. Leroy Luke, American Legion Auxiliary; Mrs. H. J. Honecker of Christ Church Parish School; and O. W. Delph, Chamber of Commerce. . . .

Mr. Delph commented on the fact that last year's "Freedom Flame," sponsored by the Boy Scout Organizations, was such a success that it was decided by the Chamber of Commerce this year, to make it an even bigger affair. The program, to begin at 2 p. m. and last until about 8 p. m., is open to all. . . .

An excellent speaker will be selected to make the closing address for the occasion. It was announced by Mr. Delph that another meeting to draft program details will be held Thursday evening, April 23, at 7:30, at the Chamber of Commerce office. The planning committee is composed of Mayor Carver, Mr. Pahlman, Dr. Evans, Mrs. Horton, Mrs. Ladner, Mrs. Luke and Mr. Seafide. . . .

Miss Irma Joan Lee, 19, of 106 State Street, will represent the Lions Club in the Hancock County "Miss Hospitality" contest to select a candidate for the state competition to be held in Jackson and Biloxi in July. . . .

Miss Lee, a green-eyed blonde is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland L. Lee; she is presently employed as a bookkeeper at the local Hancock Bank. . . .

The Lee family came to Bay St. Louis from Logtown in 1944. Irma Joan, valedictorian in the class of 1951, was graduated from Bay High. In that same year, she was selected Homecoming Queen and maid of honor in the May Festival. . . .

During high school years, the candidate, who stands 5 feet 3 inches and weighs 112 pounds, was a member of Delta Sigma Chi sorority. A brother, Walter James Lee of New Orleans, and a sister, Mrs. Norma Jean Hughes, whose husband is in Korea, make up the balance of the Lee family. . . .

Irma Joan, an active member of the First Baptist Church, lists piano playing as her talent, dancing as her relaxation and sewing as her usefulness. . . .

Holleman Contests March 31 Election

Charging irregularities in the March 31 special election for District Attorney, Boyce Holleman of Wiggins in contesting the election of Arnaud O. Lopez asked the courts to install him as "the duly elected district attorney." . . .

The 29-year-old former Stone County legislator filed the petition contesting against Lopez, 43-year-old Biloxi attorney, with Pearl River County Circuit Clerk J. Monroe Spiers at Poplarville at 4:52 p. m. Monday exactly eight minutes before the clerk's office was to close for the day. . . .

The action was taken as a panel of state Supreme Court justices in Jackson set aside a writ of mandamus order against Harrison County Circuit Clerk E. G. Lindsey of Gulfport permitting Holleman to examine certain boxes used in the election in the county. . . .

But Holleman had already completed this examination before the justices acted and was in Poplarville filing his petition of contest. The hearing on the contest was set for the Pearl River Circuit Court term beginning May 25. The Pearl River Court is in a district adjoining the district in which the contest arose. . . .

Lopez has already been sworn in as district attorney and Holleman already has examined the ballot boxes in question. Gov. Hugh White has held up issuance of a commission for Lopez, pending further action in the controversy. A commission is necessary to draw pay. . . .

Holleman, in his contest petition, said irregularities included ballots by unqualified voters, mutilated ballots were counted and that in some cases more ballots were counted than there were voters. . . .

Holleman challenged primarily certain boxes in Harrison and Hancock counties. He said that at Edwardsville, Hancock County precinct, at the Courthouse and at the South Bay precinct, ballots were cast with distinguishing marks on them. That at Waveland 20 votes were cast by non-residents of the state. That at City Hall precinct there was one more vote cast than there were voters in the precinct. . . .

Plan May Fellowship Day For Friday

"Citizenship - Our Christian Concern" is the theme of the program for May Fellowship Day to be observed this year at the First Baptist Church Friday, May 1, at 3:00 p. m. . . .

Mrs. R. R. Priddy of Jackson, will be the guest speaker; the worship service will be led by Mrs. C. C. McDonald. . . .

The Most Rev. Joseph Oliver Bowers, S. V. D., a British subject born in the British West Indies, came the first Negro member of this order, the Society of the Divine Word ever to be consecrated a Bishop of the Catholic church Wednesday, April 22. . . .

The consecration, which took place at Our Lady of the Gulf Church, was witnessed by an estimated crowd of 2500. . . .

Bishop Bowers, who was once a student at St. Augustine's Seminary, Bay St. Louis, went to the Gold Coast in British West Africa in 1940 as one of the seminary's first missionaries to foreign lands. He will return there in September, as Bishop of the Diocese of Accra which has 33,000 Catholics and a population of 1,311,000. . . .

Consecrator for the memorable event was His Eminence Frances Cardinal Spellman, Archbishop of New York, one of the many notables of the Catholic church who came from all parts of the United States and overseas to take part. . . .

Senior co-consecrator was His Excellency, the Most Rev. Richard O. Gerow, S. T. D., Bishop of Natchez. Junior co-consecrator was His Excellency, the Most Rev. Adolph Noser, S. V. D., S. T. D., Vicar Apostolic of Alexishaven, New Guinea, who Bishop Bowers is succeeding in Accra. . . .

The Most Rev. Joseph F. Rummel, S. T. D., Archbishop of New Orleans in delivering the consecration ceremony said "the challenge is indeed great" which the new Bishop faces on the West African coast. . . .

He traced the history of Africa from the early centuries to the present; and in so doing told of the great missionary work of the Society of the Divine Word. . . .

"We understand," he said, "that the Gold Coast colony has 1,311,000 souls of which by far the majority are still pagans." The Archbishop, turning to the newly-consecrated prelate, said: . . .

"You may, therefore, well enter upon your episcopal responsibility with confidence and a high hope that under God's blessing the work so auspiciously begun will grow to ever increasing proportions." . . .

The Diocese of Accra, which in 1939, when Bishop Noser, S. V. D., was appointed Bishop of that diocese, had a population of 150,000 of which 12,300 were Catholics. There were 68 schools and two or three missionary stations. . . .

In 13 years, the speaker continued, the Catholic population increased to 33,800; the number of schools to 196 with 16,000 Catholic pupils; 500 teachers, 45 members of the Society of the Divine Word; three native priests; 89 lay brothers and 30 sisters. He added that the Diocese has a youth movement and a District Council of Catholic Women. . . .

"Today," he added, "the Diocese of Accra is an example of intensive development that sometimes accompanies Christianity and her Missionaries." . . .

On behalf of everyone present, the Archbishop offered Bishop Bowers "our felicitations with the promise that our prayers, our affection and our interest will follow you to the fascinating Catholic mission of the Gold Coast of West Africa." . . .

Starting at 9:30 a. m., an automobile procession left the Seminary and traveled along Second street to Carroll avenue and then to Beach Boulevard. All along the way the streets were lined with spectators, and the streets were hung with colored bunting. . . .

The procession was led by the 502nd Air Force Band from Keesler Field, followed by a unit of the Knights of Peter Claver in full uniform and the band from Bay High, St. Mary's Academy of New Orleans and St. Stanislaus. . . .

With great solemnity, the ceremony of consecration was carried out beginning with the examination of the Bishop-elect and proceeding with the Mass of the Feast of the Solemnity of St. Joseph (the day on which the event took place) and the Litany of the Saints to the moment when Bishop-elect Bowers prostrated himself on the floor, the ministers and all others kneeling. . . .

When Cardinal Spellman prayed for God's blessings on the bishop-elect saying: "Give to thy priest the perfection of ministry and sanctify him, decked out in ornaments of glory, with the dew of thy heavenly oilment," the Bishop-elect actually became a Bishop. . . .

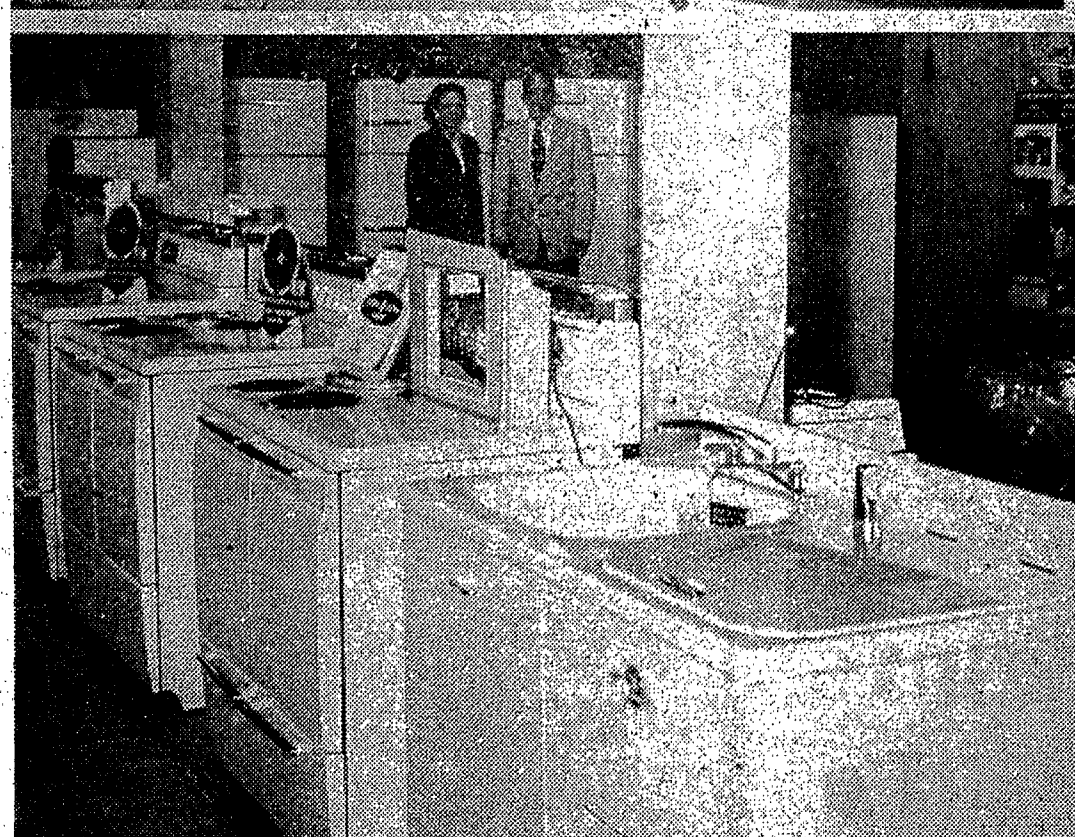

The Consecrator then bound the head of the Bishop-elect with a new cloth and anointed his head with oil, saying "May your head be anointed and consecrated by heavenly benediction in the pontifical order." Then followed the presentation by the new Bishop of his golden staff of office and the embrace of the consecrator. . . .

After Archbishop Rummel's sermon, Bishop Bowers presented to the consecrator, Cardinal Spellman, two lighted torches, 2 loaves of bread, 2 small barrels of wine decorated with the coat of arms of the consecrator and of the newly consecrated bishop, in a long-standing tradition of the church harking back to the time when worshippers laid food and wine on the altar as offerings. . . .

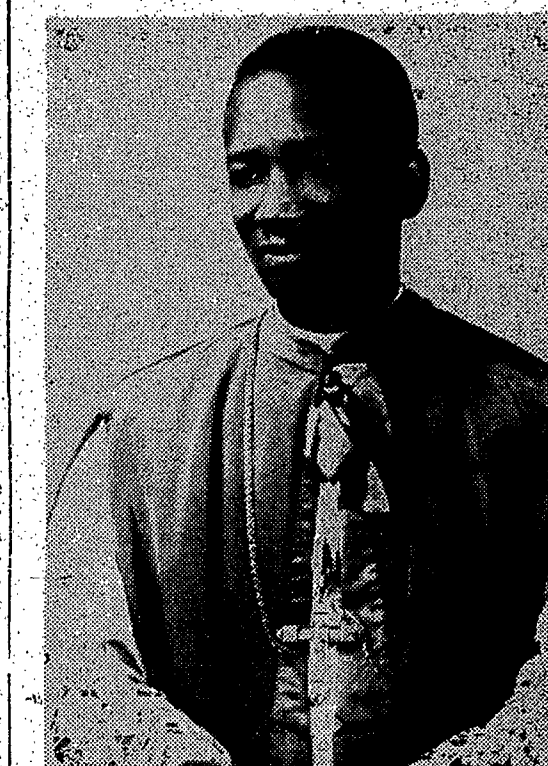

inery chapel Thursday at 9 a. m., and on Sunday he will celebrate a solemn pontifical mass at St. Joseph's church in Kansas City, Mo. . . .

He will leave in the near future for a one-month stay with his 84-year-old father at his home in the village of Roseau, Island of Dominica, British West Indies, before returning to Africa. . . .

The bid averaged 3.37 per cent for the entire 20 years. There was a difference of $528.82 between the successful bidder and the second highest bidder. Other bids were from Southern Bond Company, Jackson; White Hatter and Sanford, New Orleans; Arnum and Crane, New Orleans. . . .

The ceremony then went on to its conclusion, and Bishop Bowers, now wearing the white and gold high pointed hat of his new rank, walked outside the church to bless those still waiting on the outside, went back into the church briefly, then turned and left the church again, thus ending the long ceremony. . . .

Following the consecration, the clergy returned to the seminary, where Bishop Bowers was honor guest at a banquet addressed by Cardinal Spellman, Bishop Gerow and Bishop Bowers. . . .

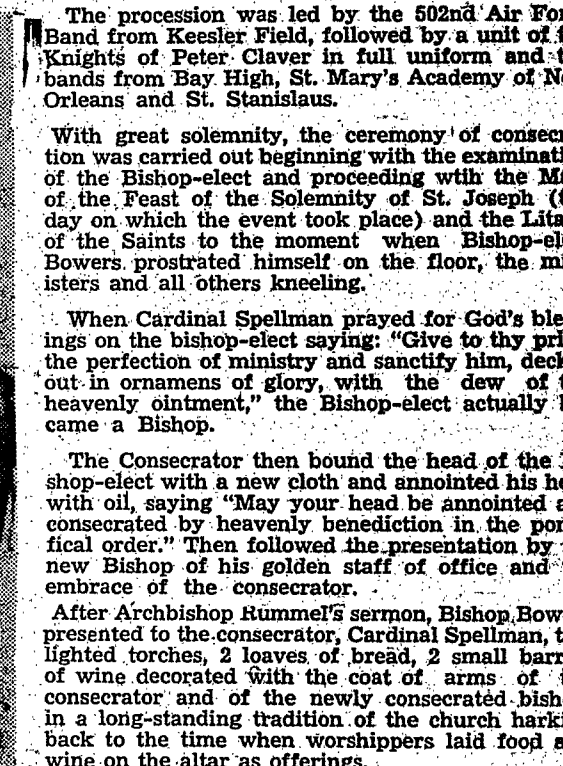

The banquet was followed by a reception for the clergy in the banquet hall and a reception for the laity in the main parlors of the seminary. . . .

TO THE EDITOR:

For the past few weeks I have been reading with a great deal of interest the claims being made by Commissioners Sylvan Ladner Jr. and Cyril Glover in presenting their candidacy to the people of Bay St. Louis. Allow me to say that even though not a candidate for re-election to the office of Mayor of this community, I nevertheless feel that it would be a lack of appreciation to the people of Bay St. Louis who elected me to this position of trust four and one-half years ago if I did not at this time bring to their attention certain facts which I sincerely believe should be disclosed. It was my belief at the beginning of this administration that the minutes of the Commission Council should be made public through the medium of a local newspaper. Commissioners Glover and Ladner opposed such action and gave as their reason the cost would be prohibitive in view of the poor financial condition of the municipality and also that the minutes are a matter of public record and anyone desiring to know what is going on may read the minutes at any time. In my opinion of course, these excuses or reasons were rather weak. In the first place, the Commission found money to do other things they thought necessary to do that would secure their own political future. Secondly, their reasoning is as much to say: "We are spending the public's money and if they want to know how it is being spent then let them make a special trip to the City Hall to read the minutes." Third, I definitely know that hundreds and perhaps thousands of tax dollars would have remained unspent had the light of public attention been brought to bear on such spending by means of newspaper publication.

During these past four years the Commissioners have consistently opposed my views and proposals. I realize full well, of course, that there were times when I may have been wrong. However, the amazing fact is that during this entire time, Mr. Ladner and Mr. Glover have always voted alike. Not once during this entire time will the minutes reflect a disagreement between the two.

Space will not permit my going into a detailed rebuttal of all their claims. I shall make my statements as brief as possible.

First, their boast of a "businesslike administration" seems in need of a little analysis. They refer specifically to the Water Supply System. It is a fact as shown by the figures of the City Auditor that the water system is a financial liability to the taxpayers. It should be one of our most lucrative sources of revenue. Actually, however, the water system - under this "businesslike administration" - does not pay its own way and a levy must be placed on every property owner in order that the obligations of the water system might be met. This means that a property owner who uses not one drop of city water must pay for the water used by the other fellow. This "businesslike administration" is now operating the water system under the provisions of an ordinance adopted some thirty years ago. With the deep well recently put into operation this burden on the man who does not use city water will probably be greater.

Incidentally, I might state in connection with this new well that its operating cost amounts to approximately $150.00 monthly. Its drilling cost, etc., was about $15,000.00. I opposed the drilling of this well because the weight of professional advice and common sense was opposed to such action. The engineer representing the State Reclaim Bureau and the engineer for the State Board of Health both advised the City Council not to drill the well. After the bids had been let a gentleman representing one of the largest well drilling firms in the United States walked over to me and said: "Mayor, naturally we bid on this drilling but I just want to say that you are right." Here are the facts: We are using 300 gallons of water per person per day. The national average usage is slightly over 100 gallons of water per person per day. Therefore, we had enough water. The trouble was and still is with our distribution system, and Commissioners Ladner and Glover have consistently refused to do anything about this problem.

It would be "good business" if this administration would lend every effort to locate an industrial plant for our people to earn their livelihood here instead of having to travel many miles each day to do so. Yet this "Businesslike administration" refused to appropriate the sum of $125.00 for the purpose of having a survey made plant to locate here. Again, they refused to lend assistance to the owners and operators of the Lake-More Canning Company to open the mouth of Bayou Caddy in order that boats might make their way to the cannery company wharf. The amount involved was $650.00. The annual factory payroll was approximately $25,000.00 and at least 75% of the money was being spent in this community. At another time I arranged a meeting with an industrial prospect and present for the meeting to be held the next morning. Neither Commissioner Glover nor Commissioner Ladner was present at that scheduled meeting. What I have said here is a matter of public record. Anyone desiring to see it in black and white on the minutes may do so.

Commissioners Glover and Ladner are taking credit among other

ARTHRITIS?

I have been wonderfully blessed in being restored to active life after being crippled in nearly every joint in my body and with muscular soreness from head to foot. I had Rheumatoid Arthritis and other forms of Rheumatism, hands deformed and my ankles were set.

Limited space prohibits telling you more here but if you will write me I will reply at once and tell you how I received this wonderful relief.

BASEBALL NEWS

The Bay Juniors played last Sunday here at home on which occasion the new park was officially dedicated. Quite a nice crowd was present for this home game, though many parents who should have come and seen their sons play were absent. It is hoped that for the next game which will be played on May 3, against the Gold Seal Creamery Nine, a team in the WORD program, the parents will attend. The official program opened with a parade through town to the ball park. At the ball park itself, the spectators were entertained by the St. Stanislaus Band under the direction of Brother Martial. The program at the park took the following turn: Presentation of the park to the City, John McDonald.

Acceptance of the park on behalf of City, Mayor Warren Carver.

Blessing of the park, Msgr. A. J. Gmelch.

Presentation of favors to sponsors, Captains of opposing teams; and Flag raising, Boy Scouts of Troops 208, 217 and 220.

Sunday's game was played against a team from the Metairie program which is under the direction of Harry "Wop" Glover, a native of Bay St. Louis. The batteries for Metairie were Granier catching and Saccaro pitching, while for the Bay Juniors, the batteries were Kidd catching and Mathes pitching. Both pitchers went the route and scoring was really close, the final score being to 3 in favor of the Bay Jr.

A total of eight hits were collected off Saccaro by the Bay boys while Larry Mathes only surrendered four. The umpires were Nobles, behind the plate and Mathes on the bases.

Next Sunday, April 29, the Bay Juniors journey to Biloxi for a return game with St. Michael's CYO on the latter's diamond. Anyone desiring to go along and having a car is urgently requested to contact Father Taylor at the rectory, phone 200, as transportation to Biloxi will be needed.

4-H Club Members Increase

The most important crops in Hancock County are its boys and girls, according to O. W. Delph, Chairman of the County 4-H Advisory Council, who reports 281 boys and 224 girls enrolled in 4-H Club projects.

"These young people will be better citizens because of 4-H lessons learned by ownership and responsibility in project work, leadership, public speaking, personality improvement, and other activities which emphasize the values of good Americanism."

"From today's 4-H Clubs will come many of tomorrow's leaders in the businesses, professions, farming and homemaking."

National attention will turn to 4-H Club work in Mississippi this year as part of the celebration of the 50th anniversary of farm demonstration work.

The 4-H Club program is organized in Hancock County, Mississippi in 1907.

Besides the Golden Anniversary of farm demonstration work, out of which grew the Agricultural Extension Service, this year is also important to Mississippi agriculture as the 75th Anniversary of the founding of Mississippi State College.

The 4-H Club program is conducted by the Agricultural Extension Service through agents in every county. Agents assisting 4-H members in Hancock County are Miss Sarah Weaver for girls and Alton A. Barber for boys. Adult leaders also play a vital part in the program.

Supporting the local 4-H program in many ways are members of the County 4-H Advisory Council. In addition to Mr. Delph, members of this group are Alton A. Barber, Miss Weaver, Johnson Shaw, Mrs. J. P. Rousseau, Mrs. H. Burleigh, Bob Hamilton, J. R. Scharf, Cyril Glover, Warren Carver, Miss May Edwards, Miss Udel Favre, J. L. Bishop, Mrs. George Stevenson, Alden Mauffray, Sylvan Laddner and Henry Olsonach.

Local Extension Agents working with 4-H receive assistance from the Extension Service state 4-H Club department at State College. State level support of 4-H Clubs comes from the State 4-H Advisory Council, consisting of leading business and professional men with Les M. Taylor of Jackson as 1953 president; and the Mississippi 4-H Foundation, Inc., which finances scholarships and other special 4-H programs. Duke Davis of Jackson, Chairman.

4-H is the largest rural youth organization in the world. It has over 2,000,000 members in the United States and 104,000 in Mississippi.

Highlights of recent 4-H progress in Hancock County were reviewed by the local Extension Agents.

The Boys 4-H enrollment for the county has increased from 188 in 1952 to 281 in 1953. The girls enrollment has increased from 212 in 1952 to 224 in 1953.

The recent 4-H Club Rally proved that there is no finer youth organization anywhere than the 4-H Club. There is no enrollment fee, nothing to buy, by doing. 4-H Activities outside the county this year are Crops, Judging Contest at Laurel, March 31; Meats Judging Contest at Hattiesburg, June 4; 4-H Short Course at Ocean Springs 4-H Training Center, June 1-3; County 4-H Camp at Shelby State Park, June 15-17; Junior Leadership Training Conference at Ocean Springs Training Center, July 27-30; State 4-H Conservation Camp Choctaw Lake, August 10-14; State 4-H Roundup in Jackson, November 19-20.

Bay High Chatter

According to a recent survey made in the Bay Public School of band talent for the coming year, 51% of the student body from grades 4 through 12 want to learn a band instrument. There were 203 questionnaires given, in which 157 said "yes" and 46 said "no."

As to participating in the school band some time in their school years, below are the following figures for each grade:

Grade	Yes	No
4th grade	29	23
5th grade	19	9
6th grade	17	9
7th grade	20	17
8th grade	20	7
9th grade	30	39
10th grade	14	18
11th grade	8	17
12th grade	(not included)

As the band situation now stands there are 30 members in Band II (Varsity) plus eight majorettes. In Band I (Junior) the number varies around 13 to 20, but so many of these are ready to become part of the Varsity Band that they should be included because of their years of training. This would number the band to 50 or possibly 57 for next year.

The following promotions were made in the Varsity Band after the Jackson Band Contest: Solo clarinets, Allen Wilkinson and Jerry Bliven; First clarinets, Madeline Carr and Kay Kramer; Second clarinets, M. J. Alice Heitzmann and Gail Parker; Third clarinets, to be filled from Junior Band; First E flat alto saxophone, Howard Parker; Second E flat saxophone, Carl Thioux; Tenor and Baritone, to Miller; Solo trumpets, Jimmy Kramer, Billy James and Milford Favre; First trumpets, Manuel Maurigi and J. L. Gonzales; Second trumpet, Richard Bourgeois and Otto Bourgeois; Third trumpet, Betty Hartsfield and Gene Ross; French Horn and Mellophone, Huey Johnston, Carl Horton and Clifford Duke; Trombones, Wheeler Hartsfield, Clara Lee Ketchum and Grace Woods; Baritone and Euphonium, Billy James; Bass Horn and Sousaphone, Harold Wilkinson; Percussion, Keith Tonkel, M. J. Gleber, Louis Palmer, Carlos J. Arnold, and Ronald Maurigi.

For the first time in years some of the sections of the band have never been closed, but such is the case now. The only sections open for a beginner are the following: Flute, piccolo, oboe, clarinet, trombones, baritone, euphonium and bass horn. The others, saxophone, bassoon, trumpet, french horn, mellophone and percussion are closed for three years.

P-T-A
The Bay High P-T-A met Tuesday evening with Mrs. Paul Miller, vice president, presiding. The meeting was opened with prayer read by Miss Sybil Koenig.

Mrs. Elsie Taylor, fifth grade, presented a playlet, "The School Clown," with the following children taking part: Dennis Tartavouille, Linda Sharp, Barry Tartavouille, Joan Favre, Patricia Rauxet, Glenda Poyadou, Elizabeth Rauxet, Bobby Williams, O'Neil Bennett, Elliot Neasias, Anna Mae Triana, Sylvia Johnston, Dorothy Steele, Tommy Fletcher, Melvin Burge, Kenneth Laddner, and Earl Oliver.

A panel of high school students composed of Temple Perkins, Peggy DeHaan, Darling Norman, Bert Stiefel, Sue Smith and Edwin Ruhl led by Mrs. J. E. Erwin in discussing "What Makes Strong Families."

Everyone agreed that such issues as religion, children, family background, finances and kind of home life, expected to be thoroughly discussed by a couple before marriage. It was agreed that the wife should not work unless it was absolutely necessary for the family to have the essentials. One stated that the family that prays together stays together. It was suggested the strong family may have one night a week set aside on which they do something together, and a family council would help make the family more democratic.

One should never try to reform a person after marriage and if all issue are discussed beforehand this should not be necessary. Married couples should try to cultivate some of the same friends and should know something about child care if they plan to have children. For the sake of future happiness physical examinations should be required; every child has the right to be well born, they concluded.

Miss Koenig's Seventh grade won the room contest.

LIBRARY CLUB HAS ASSEMBLY PERIOD
The members of the Library Club put on a program in assembly last Thursday. Eleanor Burkin and Martha Holt, accompanied by Mrs. Smith sang "Trees." A skit, "Extra Library Club Confab," was presented with Eleanor Burkin, Martha Holt, Glenda Reed and Robert Bling taking part. "Springtime is Here" was recited by Glenda Johnston, and John Perkins recited "Ain't Complaining." Other students taking part were Vernon Bernom, Marie Lizana and Clifford Duke.

Myra Ann Seal, a senior, has accepted a part-time stenographic position with Robert L. Geary, attorney. Myra Ann will continue the part-time work until school is out; then she will be employed full time.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NEWS
Rose Ann Thomas, a member of Mrs. Perkins' fourth grade, had a nice motor trip to Houston, Texas, with her grandparents. Rose Ann had many interesting things to relate to the class.

Miss Ming's fourth grade lost two members lately. Alcine Johnston and Egan Carroll have moved to New Orleans.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM
Invitations to the Junior-Senior Prom were issued Wednesday afternoon to the Seniors and Faculty. This much anticipated event will take place on the evening of Friday, April 24, at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.

Clair Carr, chairman of the refreshment committee; Billy James and Billy Burrow, chairman of decoration, report that their committees are busy planning to make the affair a success.

The Bay St. Louis High School has been notified that funds for Federal Aid in the construction of the new elementary school building have been certified and Supt. S. J. Ingram has been in session with the District Engineer for Housing and Office Finance from the Atlanta Office to outline procedure for placing this project in operation.

ESSAY

Anna Frances Rose, 15 year-old freshman at Bay High, who resides at 402 Dunbar Avenue, Bay St. Louis, won first prize in the recent essay contest on Soil Conservation. Her winning essay follows:

WHAT SOIL CONSERVATION MEANS TO HANCOCK COUNTY

COUNTY

We know that conservation means to save something from decay, not waste it. Therefore, soil conservation would mean to save our soil from waste and also benefit our county.

To us this means we must do all in our power to make and to use our soil in the best possible way. It means we should rotate certain crops over so often; we should keep them watered well; we should plow the soil often and properly; we should grow the crops best suited for the soil. After all, these are the reasons soil is here—why waste it when it can benefit and it can help us, and many others. What would waste away from improper care? Many people would lose their jobs. We wouldn't have good foods. Many animals would die for the lack of food. Plagues would start, and many people would die, and thousands of other things that you probably never have dreamed of. Don't just say, when I have some spare time, I'll do that part, then you never do it. Make it your business to have time to do these things, before the soil and many other things go to waste. Another important thing is not to do this only a little while, then forget it, must keep on day after day. Soil is like everything else; it doesn't just all of a sudden, become sick and irrigate itself. It takes time and patience. Yes, I know nature gives it many things. The most important are the sunshine, the air, and the water, but it cannot do the whole job alone. It has to have help and that help should come from us. Just as we cannot do the job alone, without the sunshine, the water, and the air, God gave us this soil to use wisely and to grow crops to live off and to help others—we should do this as our part.

Not all counties have more help than we have, and some have less help. We have broadcast on radios telling different, better, and more economical ways to conserve our soil. There are many books we can read that will tell us different things. Many people are assigned to their work jobs to tell us how to do certain things better; the newspaper also gives us helpful hints.

We have also modern machines. Where, as years ago man had to do all his work of the soil by hand with animal's labor. We have tractors and other machines that plow the fields, that reap the grain, that rotate the soil, and many other things. These machines have enabled us to do the work better, quicker, and more economically.

Drainage canals have also been constructed so as to make some of our swamps fertile land to grow crops on and also to keep away many diseases. Our forests also help us in caring for our soil. It protects it from destruction of land erosion. When it rains, it cuts the force of the rain, before it hits the trees and thus keeps the force from hitting the ground and carrying the top soil down a slope or some other place. In time, big gullies can be worn into the land by rain if it is not protected. The matting of decayed leaves also, covering the soil by forming a sod which will absorb much of the water.

Soil conservation in Hancock County will be a benefit not only to the boys and girls of today but to boys and girls of the future generation.

Hilda Russell, second place winner of Waveland, is a 16-year-old sophomore at Bay High School. She wrote the following essay:

WHAT SOIL CONSERVATION MEANS TO HANCOCK COUNTY

The conservation of soil is important to have a better county; if we don't make a practice of conservation and saving our soil, we will not only lose it but also other things connected with the soil. It is very easy to lose the soil and very hard to replace it. It takes so long to rebuild it. If we destroy the things that help to make the soil, such as, animals, plants, and the minerals, we lose our soil. Conservation of the soil means saving the soil. The only way we can do that is by saving everything connected with it.

The conservation of soil means a great deal to us, since we are near water and below sea level. If we destroy our forests by fire or cutting off trees, there is nothing left but bare ground, and rain water easily washes it away.

One of the ways soil is lost is by erosion. When we farm our land on a hill and don't plow it so the water goes in the soil, the water stays on the top. It then runs down hill taking valuable top soil with it. If the trees and grass are cut off, the soil is left bare to be blown away by strong winds. When there are trees, plants and grass on the soil, it is less apt to be blown or washed away by rain water and wind. The rain can then hit the trees and plants and not the soil. When the water reaches the ground, it can't carry the topsoil away as easily as if there were not any plants or trees there. The roots of the trees and plants hold the soil together preventing it from being carried away.

Soil can be saved by irrigation of swamps and wet lands. This helps to keep the water from taking the soil with it into streams or rivers.

The main reason soil conservation means so much to our county is our farms and forests. If we don't preserve the soil, we will no longer have farms and forests from which to make a living. If the soil is destroyed, these things which we make our living from are destroyed, besides other things related indirectly to the soil. Since one thing helps another, we have to see that all are kept in good condition. We might think the destruction is only where the soil is lost and that is the only place it hurts in industry, but it does not, it affects other places also. Since this region is good to produce early crops, cities, towns, and other places depend on these crops. To keep these early crops producing yearly we have to save our soil. Most of us depend on these crops to make a living. That is why we are interested in preserving our soil for future use. Soil is connected with all industry in an indirect way. We lose our soil; we lose part of our industry.

Living where there is an abundant supply of water we must be extra careful to see that it doesn't destroy the soil by erosion or other means. When we farm, it is especially important to see that the plowing is done right so the soil isn't washed down hill. The best way to do this is by contour plowing and by planting a legume such as alfalfa. The legumes' roots go down deeply into the soil and keep it from being washed away. Trees are also planted to hold the soil in place. We can also save by plowing green crops under and by letting leaves, and other things rot. This makes a humus that enriches the soil and leaves minerals that make a rich topsoil. Another way to save the minerals in the soil is to rotate crops each year. Plant different crops in different places. This helps to leave minerals in the soil which one crop might take out of it.

Soil conservation is the foundation to all farming. It is necessary to save the soil so we can farm. A few of the ways we can save the soil is by planting trees and grass. We must prevent forest fires and see that our streams and rivers are constructed to drain the land and not carry off our topsoil. When we farm our soil and don't put the minerals we take out, the soil becomes useless in a few years. It is then of little use for anything and nothing will grow there that will hold the soil for a protection.

Conservation of our soil helps us to produce better crops. These we sell to the merchant and get money to buy more things. The merchant in turn buys more from the manufacturer. The manufacturer can put more people to work to produce goods. The result is that it benefits the whole country.

To capture third place, Temple Perkins, senior at Bay High, wrote the essay below. Temple, who resides at 125 Court street, Bay St. Louis, is 17 years of age.

WHAT SOIL CONSERVATION MEANS TO HANCOCK COUNTY

In order to conserve our soil, we must understand some things about the erosion or wearing away of the earth. Erosion is caused by wind and water. Of course, many other factors bring about this destruction of land, but wind and water are the main elements that influence erosion. Streams and rivers are constantly cutting into their banks and carrying a portion of this earth along with them as they continue on their journey downhill. Therefore, the high lands are quickly reduced in size, and the rich soil is transported to another delta or low land. It is important to note that approximately one third of our top soil is lost by water running over unprotected land.

Wind strips the earth of its fertile top soil in much the same way that water erodes the land. Barren land is left helplessly to the voracious winds.

People may ask, "What can be done about the ravens effects of erosion?" There could be an infinite number of answers. A field that is sloping downward or hilly may be terraced. If the soil is not to be cultivated, it should be kept in grass. If possible, trees should be planted there unless plans have been made to plow the ground later. The grass and trees help the ground retain rain water and also stop its swift flow downhill. Grass also helps protect top soil from wind.

Another type of conservation of soil is to preserve the minerals which are found in any rich lands. Good crop rotation is imperative in sections of the county where farming is practiced on a large scale. When the same crop is planted again and again in one certain area, the land soon becomes useless and unproductive. Where water is scarce, many resort to irrigation which distributes water to many parched and dry fields that would otherwise have to be left until it rains.

In areas where floods occur often, dams should be built to help preserve the soil which would be carried away when the river or stream waters recede.

Soil erosion is unnecessary. It is wasteful—and every one, whether they live in Hancock County or some other county, should know something about soil conservation.

When our forefathers first came to America, there were bountiful forests and woodlands. As our forefathers gradually moved westward, more and more of our land was stripped of trees and shrubs. Of course, much of it was cultivated, but many pioneers became restless and left their cleared tracts in order to move farther toward the west. Thus, much of our land was wastefully left to the merciless destruction of erosion.

Today, one may still look about our county and many others and see land that was thoughtlessly left bare—land that is now completely useless. Great gulches and gullies have been cut into valuable land that could have been productive. These gullies have turned the land into nothing but useless scenery. If one has ever looked upon acres of this barren earth, they have probably had a feeling of fright. This vast expanse of land has been submitted to the lawless winds and rains of nature. This is much the same way as a hurricane at sea. Both are deadly.

There is a way that everyone can help by learning the information about erosion in the section in which he or she lives. Different sections present different problems of controlling erosion. One thing is certain—each one must do his or her share in order to preserve our land for many productive years to come.

Something else to consider here—there is not much industry in Hancock County; it can be developed into a prosperous industrial region—if our soil is rich and fertile. This can be possible if we begin immediately to practice soil conservation methods.

"I knelt with others in a half-circle about the altar.

"My hands were anointed with holy oil by the Bishop and wrapped carefully in new linen.

"The ancient prayers of the Church were being recited over me. The hands of the Bishop were laid upon me just as the hands of St. Peter and St. James and St. Paul were laid upon the young disciples they sent forth to labor, to teach, and to die.

"The chalice with wine and water and a small dish holding the unconsecrated bread were entrusted to me. The priestly vestments were placed upon my shoulders.

"I was being consecrated to God and to the service of souls. I was being marked with the Sign of the Cross.

"I was receiving the Sacrament of the Catholic priesthood, usually referred to as Holy Orders... instituted by Christ, conferred by the Apostles, and continuing in unbroken succession nearly 2,000 years since the time of Our Lord."

Some may scoff at the solemn ceremonies that attend the Ordination of a Catholic priest, and question the good sense of a man who surrenders many of life's material pleasures for such a calling. Others may doubt that the Catholic priest possesses any Christ-given office or powers which other men do not possess.

Perhaps you have heard someone challenge the authority of the priest to forgive sins, and his power to consecrate the Body and Blood of Christ in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. You may have been told that you can deal directly with God and don't need a priest or any mediator other than Jesus Christ.

It is a fact that many do hold these beliefs. But can you be sure, deep down in your heart, that they are right?

Holy Scripture tells us plainly that Christ did establish a priesthood to represent Him... that He did command His Apostles to "go forth and teach all nations"... that He did say: "Whose sins you shall forgive they are forgiven them"... that at the Last Supper He set the example for an unbloody sacrifice, and said: "Do this in remembrance of Me."

God is, certainly, the ultimate source of everything. But He works through many "deputies." He uses the farmer to supply us with food... our parents, teachers, and scholars to educate us... physicians to treat our physical ills. Even in the creation of our life itself, He manifests His power through our parents. And in matters concerning the salvation of our souls, He tells us: "Hear the Church."

NEWS

by MRS. JOE ALLEN

SHEELAH LOKER ELECTED PRESIDENT LOCAL P-T-A

Mrs. Sheelah Loker was unanimously elected president of the Pass Christian P-T-A to serve for the 1953-54 session.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Milburn Boyd, vice-president; Mrs. Warren Adam, secretary; and Mrs. Grady Mangum, treasurer. They will be installed at the regular May meeting.

Mrs. W. R. Allen, outgoing president of the association, expressed herself as being happy over the nominating committee's selection of candidates. "They will make a splendid group of officers for the association," commented Mrs. Allen.

This 1952-53 session of the PTA has done exceptionally fine work in the school community. Financial support has been greater than in any previous year and the scope of PTA projects more beneficial and far-reaching. This year brought about the birth of the P-T-A Thrift Shop which has succeeded in keeping the treasury funds at a healthy level.

Improvements to the school through gifts of the Parent-Teachers Association include the addition of venetian blinds to the High School Library, and the gift of an additional drinking fountain for the elementary school. A substantial contribution of $150 was set aside by the PTA to be used by the High School Home Economics Department for refurnishing purposes and a similar amount set aside for grading, sodding and landscaping work on the playgrounds of the elementary school. Even after all these contributions have been deducted from the treasury, the new officers will have ample funds to begin 1953-54 activities.

The exact amount depends on sales volume from the Thrift Shop, before garments are offered for sale. When a need for clothing arises within the school, necessary articles are supplied free of charge by the Thrift Shop Committee. Excess clothing is offered for sale at modest prices. Thrift shop customers may include members of the P-T-A, faculty, or populace at large. There is no restriction in connection with purchases at the Thrift Shop and the values are extraordinary. The shop will open on Tuesdays and Thursdays from three until five o'clock throughout the summer.

Another good project, coming out of this year's P-T-A planning was the organization of the Teen Town Canteen. This organization has supplied wholesome recreation and entertainment for students of the 13 year age level and upward. It has been well attended and well received by the community.

Mrs. Allen says: "I am proud of the work that has been done this year. I think a lot has been accomplished." Mrs. Allen modestly says she did not contribute greatly to the successful year other than in selecting capable and able committee women who have worked together exceedingly well. Possibly the greatest thing individuals can do to assure continued success of the P-T-A is to attend all meetings and become thoroughly acquainted with the school and its needs.

Mrs. Sydney Ellis and Mrs. Sam Jeffcoat were in attendance at the State P-T-A convention and have placed pamphlets in the school library for individuals who wish to read and learn more about the organization's activities and plans. It is hoped that many parents will avail themselves of this literature.

DONALD DEMETZ ATTENDS PUBLIC EDUCATION FORUM

Donald Demetz, a member of the school Board of Pass Christian Public Schools, was in attendance at the forum on education sponsored by the Mississippi Economic Council in the Heidelberg hotel in Jackson last week.

Moderator for the forum was Harvey Lee Morrison, president-elect of the council.

Included in the factual presentations were: Present Status of Mississippi's Public Schools, a topic ably discussed by Sidney Jeffers of the Research Department; Impact on the State's Economy by Henry Eason of the Income Tax Division for the State Tax Commission; Transportation and Capital Investments in the Public Schools by T. H. Naylor of the State Department of Education; and Highlights of the Legislative Study Committee's Recommendations by Noy M. Gore Jr., who is secretary of the Legislative Study Committee.

Mrs. Demetz got a well-rounded picture of some of the problems facing public schools of Mississippi and says free single copies of the proceedings of the forum will be mailed upon request to anyone who will write the Council at P. O. Box 1849 in Jackson, Miss.

EXCESS FUNDS FROM WINDOW FANS GO TO ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Mrs. Christine Taylor, who at the beginning of the school year sponsored a drive to collect funds for installing window fans in each of the elementary public school rooms, announced recently that after purchasing all necessary fans there was a surplus of $34.67.

This money was turned over to Miss Naomi Saucier, principal of the school, to be used for the benefit of the elementary grades. Miss Saucier indicated that a carrier for the phonograph equipment used in the various grades was needed and part of the money might be spent in this way.

Miss Saucier expressed her appreciation for donation of both fans and funds. She is now planning toward a safer and prettier play ground for pupils of the school.

ENTERTAINERS NAMED FOR SCHOOL DOLL & PET SHOW ON "MAY DAY"

The plans are well underway for the sixteenth annual Doll and Pet Show sponsored by the Pass Christian Public School to raise funds for playgrounds.

Committee chairmen selected by the principal of the school, Miss

Naomi Saucier, include: Dog Department, Mrs. W. R. Allen; other pets, Mrs. Christine Taylor; Punch Table, Mrs. Chas. Atchley; Cookies, Mrs. Warren Adam; Flowers, Mrs. E. O. Heistand; and Dools, Mrs. Elwood Clay. Chairmen will select their various committees. Ribbons will be awarded prize-winners selected by the judges.

Highlighting the festival will be presentation of the King and Queen of May who will be entertained by a dance number presented by Kaye and Fred Demetz, a May Pole dance, by students from the third and fourth grades, and an unannounced theme of program to be presented by the Kindergarten of Loker and Caphart. Children from the first, second and third grades will make up the Court of King of May who is Tommy Latino and his lovely Queen, Sharon Loker.

Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Stewart, whose daughter, Martha, is a dramatic student at Ole Miss, recently motored to Oxford to see a stage production in which their daughter participated.

The John Bells are adding two rooms to their home on East Second Street.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Forney is nearing completion.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Demetz were recent visitors in Jackson, Vicksburg, Natchez and Baton Rouge. They inspected some of the lovely plantation homes along their route.

Mrs. Amy Harwell has spent several days in New Orleans visiting her daughter, Mrs. Justine LeZar.

Commodore and Mrs. Ernest Lee Jahneke had a visit from a cousin, Miss Joy Standish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Standish of Stephy Depot, Monroe, Connecticut.

Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, Donald L. Williams, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Williams, Box 22, Clermont Harbor, Miss., is completing his AF basic airman indoctrination course at Lackland Air Force Base, the "Gateway to the Air Force."

Lackland, situated near San Antonio, is the world's largest air force base, site of Air Force basic training for men and women, headquarters of the Human Resource Research Center, and home of AF's Officer Candidate School.

His basic training is preparing him for entrance into Air Force technical training and for assignment in specialized work. The course includes a scientific evaluation of his aptitude and inclination for following a particular vocation and career.

Proposed House Suited For Library

The new home of the Hancock Memorial Library, situated on Court Street, a half block from the beach, will certainly bring joy to the many persons interested in library facilities, when it is ready for occupancy.

The nearness to the "heart of town" will make it within easy reach of all, and additional parking facilities will be available at this location.

The floor plan of the building is ideal for such a project. A large living room, with an arch into an adjoining room, will suit the purpose of a desk for the librarian and a stack room and adult reading room.

Adjacent to the room that will house the Librarian, is a communicating room that will be a stack room for the children's volumes; opening onto this room is a glass enclosed area that will make a bright and colorful reading nook for the children and still be in view of the Librarian while seated at her desk.

The kitchen, which is to be left intact with furnishings, will be ideal for use at all times. There is a large room, with windows across two entire wall areas that will serve as a meeting room for the board or small organizations desiring a centrally located meeting room; yet, it insures complete privacy from the balance of the quarters to be used.

A screened porch which opens onto this room, could, if the necessity arises, be inexpensively glassed in, and a huge room made available at a minimum expense. In the interim, this open screen porch will prove a pleasant summer reading room. A bathroom completes the building.

This building, which is not in need of repair, will bring a story book ending to the dreams of many who have hoped for a complete library in its own building.

—Mrs. A. B. Nunez of St. Bernard, La., Mrs. James Dickson of Jacksonville, Fla., and Mrs. Kelly Harp and baby of New Orleans were visitors in the home of Mrs. M. Backman, Thursday.

—Larry Hanover, U. S. Air Force, who came from Germany to be with his grandmother, Mrs. L. H. Prince, during her illness, left Tuesday to return to duty.

—Miss Joyce Garcia spent the weekend in Lafayette, La., visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dupre Lapointe and family.

—Mr. and Mrs. S. Flem Dobyns of Kingsport, Tenn., and Mrs. W. B. Thompson of New Orleans were week-end guests of Dr. and Mrs. James A. Evans.

—Mrs. Jake Morreale, who underwent an operation at Hotel Dietz, last Wednesday, returned to her home Tuesday. She is improving.

—Dr. and Mrs. John L. Griffin and children spent Sunday in New Orleans with relatives. Dr. and Mrs. Griffin attended the "Holiday on Ice" show.

Write for Information About
The St. Augustine
"Once a Month Club"

St. Augustine's Seminary, located at Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, is in the diocese of Natchez, was erected in 1920 to educate and train young colored candidates for the priesthood and brotherhood, and to supply priests leaders among their group.

St. Augustine's Seminary is under the direction of the Divine Word Missionaries (Society of the Divine Word). The present enrollment of students is 125, which includes a complete course in high school, college, philosophy and theology. Among her alumni are 27 priests laboring in Mississippi, Louisiana, Belgium Congo, and the Gold Coast of Africa.

St. Augustine's is a free educational institution depending totally on free will offerings of the people. Unfortunately, it does not have an endowment fund or bequests to ease its pressing operational expenses. The Apostolate, so near and dear to God, for training leaders among the Negro race, will suffer greatly if St. Augustine's does not receive immediate financial help.

Your contribution to further the work of the Seminary will be welcomed by the Rector. It may be sent now, directly to the Seminary at Bay St. Louis, Mississippi.
